1. Saddles that are accepted for consignment must be clean and lubricated (they sell better for you). If requested, the workshop can recondition the saddle for a fee payable when the saddle is left. Beval employees will examine the saddle to spot any major defects which might make the saddle unsellable. These will be discussed with the consignee before accepting the saddle.
2. The consignee may set the sale price, however, Beval employees gladly offer advice on the current market value. Beval reserves the right not to accept a saddle which is priced is too high for resale or if the style of the saddle is not sellable.
3. Consignee agrees to leave the saddle on consignment for a minimum of six (6) weeks. If you wish to take the saddle back after the six (6) week period please call in advance so the saddle and paperwork will be ready for you. Please bring back all original consignment slips.
4. Consignee understands that Beval reserves the right to send the saddle out on a trial period of seven (7) days.
5. Beval's consignment fee is 25 percent of the selling price. Consignee will be paid when the customer's check clears the bank. A check will be issued to the consignee and sent to the above listed address.
6. Periodically Beval reviews all consignment saddles. Consignees will be phoned and advised to either lower the selling price or notified to pick up the saddle. If we are unable to reach you via phone a written notice will be sent. If the saddle is not picked up after three (3) written notices, consignee understands that they forfeit their saddle.

I HAVE READ THE ABOVE GUIDELINES AND AGREE TO THEM. I also understand that the saddle I am leaving on consignment has the following defects and or marks:
